Special Development Schools and Programs

HUSHeducation provides age and stage appropriate body safety and adolescent health classes and workshops for primary schools, teens, young people and those who work with them. They are conducted in a relaxed and informal manner by our highly skilled and experienced educators.

TAILOR-MADE PROGRAMS INCLUDE

Sexual Health and Decision Making:

This program is about knowing whether you are ready to become sexually active, knowing how to protect your sexual health and recognising some of the influences in this area. This 1.5 hour session outlines the legal requirements and investigates social and emotional pressures. Condoms are displayed and demonstrated; porn and consent are part of this session.

Safer Sex:

Minimum two session concentrating on STI's and contraception (sexual health). STI's are discussed and participants will learn the 5 general areas of information that people need to know to protect themselves and their partners from STI's. Condom use is demonstrated and practiced on plastic penises. Various long lasting methods of contraception are introduced and displayed for a hands-on experience.

ASK US ABOUT OUR BODY SAFETY AND PROTECTIVE BEHAVIOURS SESSIONS FOR CHILDREN AND TEENS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS.

Margie is a VIT registered teacher with over 30 years in the classroom. She is a nationally recognized sexuality educator with particular experience teaching students with intellectual disabilities and also a published expert on body safety awareness for children and a respected authority on puberty education and adolescent health.

"Margie was very receptive to our students; she is a great presenter. She always answered student questions at their level and kept them focused." Sue Lyell Peninsula Specialist College

*"Margie works well with the students and staff." J Ventura
"A very professional and relevant program."*

"Very positive and informative." Berendale School

Reproduction:

In this 1 ½ hour session participants will be investigating conception, pregnancy and birth. Photos of the developing foetus will take the young people on a journey through the stages of pregnancy and into the birth. The hours and days after birth will be discussed from both the mother's and the child's point of view.

Puberty:

Puberty is a time of rapid physical and social/emotional changes. It can begin long before the teen years or any time up until 14 or 15 years old. Some people breeze through the puberty years and others find them particularly challenging. This session of 3 hours or 2 x 1 ½ hours investigates the what, why and when of puberty. We introduce scientific names for body parts and functions and investigate menstruation and sperm production in part 2 of the program.

Respectful Relationships:

Healthy relationships thrive on respect, kindness and trust. Unhealthy or disrespectful relationships rely on an imbalance of power. This session is about learning to recognize unhealthy relationships and finding out about the respect everyone deserves within a relationship. Consent is discussed and role-played.

We recommend an absolute minimum of two sessions per year level, with an optimal program consisting of 4 – 6 one and a half hour sessions.

Sex and the Law:

Legally you are not allowed to have sex with anyone until you are over the age of consent. In this session you will find out just how old you and your partner(s) are required to be. We will investigate the meanings behind the legal terminology and the consequences of under-age sexual activity. The session briefly discusses the dangers of sexting and the problems with underage use of porn.

Contraception:

Research shows that in Australia, over one quarter of all year 10 students and just over half of all year 12 students have had sex. Some young people choose to not use contraception, despite knowing an unplanned pregnancy is a possibility. This program takes a detailed look at the contraception choices available and discusses the pros and cons of each – particularly for young people. We talk about availability and effectiveness and have a close, hands-on look at each option. The 'morning after pill' is also discussed.

Special School Programs include a combination of tailor made sessions aimed at different ages and stages.
